Once upon a time
I was on the brink
I was so thirsty
I could hardly think
I ordered a lemonade or two or three or four and then I ordered one more for the road
They said, "That's one too many."

So I ran
A wanted man
With my lemonade
ONE TOO MANY

To a snazzy little jazz café where they really blew the blues
I used to be a playa so I'd come to pay my dues
I asked them for a solo
They would not give me any
So I grabbed a trumpet TOOT
They said, "That's one toot too many."

So I ran
A wanted man
With my lemonade
ONE TOO MANY Trumpet
ONE TOOT TOO MANY

To a theatre
For a tutu
To wear as a disguise
I found several
And they all seemed to fit
To my surprise
I managed to squeeze twenty-two tutus 'round my fanny when the manager burst in and said,
"That's one tutu too many."

So I ran
A wanted man
With my lemonade
ONE TOO MANY Trumpet

ONE TOOT TOO MANY

Tutus

ONE TUTU TOO MANY

To a tattoo parlor 'cause all this stuff was hot

I said, "Can you tattoo a two on to everything I've got?"

He did the lemonade, the trumpet, and twenty-one tutus plenty

But the twenty-second tutu there was "one tutu tattoo too many."

So I ran

A wanted man

With my lemonade

ONE TOO MANY

Trumpet

ONE TOOT TOO MANY

Tutus

ONE TUTU TOO MANY

ONE TUTU TATTOO TOO MANY

To a Transylvanian boxing match

To try the ol' 'one-two'

I jumped into the ring

He hit me

One-two-two-two-two-two

I said "I vant to von-two-two-two too"

"You vant to whvat?"

"I vant to von-two-two-two-two-two too"

he said, "That's von vant to two-two-two-two . . . two too many."

So I ran

A wanted man

With my lemonade
